

Proposed amendment from John Gahl:

"Prior to 2016, the University of Missouri has negotiated the establishment of collaborative degree programs, including coordinated undergraduate degree programs, with a number of international partner universities. International undergraduate transfer students participating in these collaborative or coordinated programs will be allowed to satisfy existing (2015) TOEFL requirements."