

Proposed revision to final exam policy

Rationale: As the university has added earlier and later final exam periods to the number of exams held per day, it is possible for students to have more than two exams not only in a single day, but within a 24-hour period. The minor revision to the existing language of our final exam period acknowledges and accounts for that possibility.

Note: The revision is supported by the University Registrar.

Proposed revision: (new language in red)

More Than Two Finals in a ~~Calendar Day~~ 24-hour Period

If a student is scheduled to take more than two final examinations ~~on the same day~~ within a 24-hour period, the student may choose one of these options:

- Take all final examinations as they are scheduled.
- Consult with the instructors giving the final examinations to determine whether any makeup examinations have been scheduled or can be scheduled.

Clean version of revision:

More Than Two Finals in a 24-hour Period

If a student is scheduled to take more than two final examinations within a 24-hour period, the student may choose one of these options:

- Take all final examinations as they are scheduled.
- Consult with the instructors giving the final examinations to determine whether any makeup examinations have been scheduled or can be scheduled.